Functions:

Vocabulary:

Travel and holidays; museums; lexical phrases.

Learning strategies:

When I read a text in English

- I read all the text quickly to get the general idea
- I do not try to understand every word
- I use any visual support to help me guess what the text is about
- I use what I know in Greek about the topic to help me understand the text.

Lesson 1

Everyday experiences

Lead-in

AIMS

- To introduce the form of Present Perfect
- to raise awareness of the difference between 'have been' and 'have gone'

Picture A

- the shoes are dirty
- her hair is long
- the suitcase is open and empty
- there is a full cake
- the computer screen is on
- the window is open
- a notepad on the desk is blank
- her dirty car is outside the window

Picture B

- the shoes are clean
- her hair is short
- the suitcase is still empty
- the cake has a couple of pieces missing
- the computer screen is off
- the window is closed
- a notepad on the desk with a message
- her car is clean

Task 1

B. Look again at Picture B. Match the two parts of each of the sentences below.

- | | |
|-----------------------|------------------|

Examples:

I have already eaten lunch.

I haven't eaten lunch yet. It's only 11 am.

Task 3 Cultural experiences

Read the following sentences to decide where the speaker is in each case at the moment she is speaking. Where is your friend now? Which words tell you the answer?

a. "I have been to Rhodes but I prefer it here in Thessaloniki".

b. "Here I am at home, but my friend has gone to Santorini and I miss him".

have/has been to = someone has been somewhere but they have returned have/has gone to = someone has gone somewhere and they have not returned

The Present Perfect has two parts:

have/has + past participle (affirmative); have/has not + past participle (negative); Have/has... + past participle...? (interrogative)

Circle the correct word in italics to complete the rules:

- Words like been, broken, eaten, had, lost, been, made, taken, found, given, heard, seen, are regular/irregular past participles.
- Words which end in 'ed' or 'd' like walked, arrived, decided, used, studied, played, helped, are regular/irregular past participles.

Dazzling treasures of fantastic beauty from one of the world's most famous museums are on display to mark the 300th anniversary of Peter the Great's visit to England at the age of 25. This is the first time that all the Kremlin artifacts have come to London. Focusing on the 17th and 18th centuries, the exhibition covers one of the most brilliant periods in the development of Russian art and works of silver and gold. Coins from the period are also on show.

Admission is included in the price of a ticket to the Tower of London. Tickets bought two days in advance are £1.20 cheaper than normal.

Task 7 - Comprehension

- Why is Bristol a good museum for people with physical difficulties?
- Which museum has shown works by a Greek painter?
- What has never happened to the Kremlin works of art before?
- How much cheaper is the ticket when you buy it before going to the Kremlin exhibition?

Task 8

Read the two postcards in pairs, and find an example of change in each.

Postcard 1

ENGLAND

Dear Thanassis,

I am having a great time here with my brother in the west of England. I think it is the most interesting place I have ever visited. As you know, Stephanos is at university here and so I am staying with him. He has been here for three years and he says the town is not the same since he first arrived here and things have changed. He says that when he first came here it was difficult to get around but over the years that has changed and now they have started new bus routes. As for my news, so far, I have been to the local museum and have learned a lot of things about natural history and wild animals. The paintings in the different rooms were wonderful too. And it didn't cost anything either! After walking around all the galleries, I had a soft drink and a snack. That was good too. I haven't bought any souvenirs yet, but perhaps I will get some tomorrow. Anyway, that's about all for now.

All the best,
Paris.

Task 9

In pairs, circle the different changes in each postcard. Then use two of the changes as examples to tell your partner about changes you have seen.

For example: They have started a new bus route in our area.

Postcard 2

LONDON

Dear Maria, I have just been to an amazing exhibition in the Tower of London. The curators of the museum have built a new room only for this exhibition. In fact, I have never seen anything like it before. It is full of all kinds of objects and statues. This is the first time these objects have been outside Russia until now. The exhibition includes priceless objects used in military processions. One of these is the Tzar's Jerico Cap (helmet), which is richly decorated with gold, silver and precious stones. It is exactly as it was when the Tzar wore it and nothing has changed. Admission is included in the price of a ticket to the Tower of London, so it's a good deal. Because I didn't want to queue up for ages, I bought the ticket in advance from the Underground tube station. I saved myself £1.50 by doing this. Anyway, I must go. Speak to you soon!

Gerasimos.

As for other news, I have heard that a new adventure park has just opened outside Athens, and perhaps we will go there later this week.
